Reading of the texts by the children

Elsa Gribinski and Carlos Olivera will present the collection of postcards created by children from Bordeaux, in the framework of the ‘I Wish You Were Here’ project.
Led by their teachers, about 300 pupils from some ten schools in Bordeaux took part in this project.

Under the guidance of the Bordeaux, a Heritage in Calligrams educational booklet and workshops with writer Elsa Gribinski, the children began by choosing the features that best represent Bordeaux’s heritage for them. They then looked for words to shape the outlines of their chosen landmarks.

The postcard collection is the fruit of their work. It forms a fresh and poetic view of the symbols of Bordeaux's architectural and urban heritage.

Thank you to all the children and their teachers!
